The Women's Center offers mediation as a way to reach an agreement on difficult issues in a controlled and confidential environment. Certified mediators are attorneys who help people understand their options in order to reach mutually acceptable decisions.

Mediation is usually significantly less expensive than litigation and can be settled quicker. Mediation can be effective in resolving landlord/tenant problems and separation and divorce issues.

The Women's Center is a counseling, education and information resource that provides psychological, career, financial and legal services to women and families regardless of ability to pay.

Mediation services can be provided at both Vienna and Washington DC offices.
